

TexasMonthly Live

Event Summary

Life After Ike

March 2009

James A. Baker Institute for Public Policy
Rice University, Houston

EVENT

TEXAS MONTHLY joined the James A. Baker III Institute for Public Policy at Rice University in a panel discussion about the changes in protocol and policy brought about in the aftermath of Ike, the September 2008 hurricane that virtually destroyed Galveston Island and from which Houston is still recovering.

Panelists included:

- Paul Burka, TEXAS MONTHLY senior executive editor
- Edward P. Djerejian, founding director, Baker Institute for Public Policy
- Joan Neuhaus Schaan, Fellow, Baker Institute for Public Policy
- Bill White, Mayor of Houston
- Lyda Ann Thomas, Mayor of Galveston

DATE | TIME

March 11, 2009
5:00 p.m.

PLACE

Main Hall, The James A. Baker III Institute for Public Policy
Rice University
Houston, Texas

ATTENDEES

Guests included associates of TEXAS MONTHLY; Rice University faculty, staff, alumni, students, and sponsors; and media. Approximately 100 people attended.

The panel was moderated by Baker Institute director Edward P. Djerejian.

Galveston mayor Lyda Ann Thomas, Houston Mayor Bill White, Baker Institute director Edward P. Djerejian.

LIFE AFTER IKE

THE FUTURE OF HOUSTON AND GALVESTON

Please join TEXAS MONTHLY and Rice University for a panel discussion on the effects of the devastating hurricane that changed these cities forever—and what can be done to avoid similar disasters.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 11 - MAIN HALL IN THE JAMES A. BAKER III INSTITUTE FOR PUBLIC POLICY, RICE UNIVERSITY - PANEL DISCUSSION 5 P.M.
RECEPTION IMMEDIATELY FOLLOWING. SPACE IS LIMITED. RSVP EARLY TO SECURE A SEAT.
CLICK HERE FOR DIRECTIONS AND PARKING INFORMATION

PANEL DISCUSSION MEMBERS:

Paul Burka Senior Executive Editor TEXAS MONTHLY	Edward P. Djerejian Director, James A. Baker III Institute for Public Policy	Joan Neuhaus Schaan Fellow, James A. Baker III Institute for Public Policy	Bill White Mayor of Houston	Lyda Ann Thomas Mayor of Galveston
---	---	---	---------------------------------------	--

CLICK HERE TO RSVP BY MARCH 9

TexasMonthly Live

JAMES A. BAKER III INSTITUTE FOR
PUBLIC POLICY
RICE UNIVERSITY

Texas Monthly senior executive editor Paul Burka addresses the audience.

e-invitation

TexasMonthly.com